My dear Jos. Wedgwood,

I am sorry not to have replied to your two appeals before; the fact is, the interrogations you have administered are novel and a little nonplussing.

The facts of my career are set out pretty fully in "Who's Who", and as requested I have copied this out for you, and I have in addition answered your questions as reasonably fully as I can, or as is good for you or the public.

Yours very sincerely,

Montague Barlow

My dear Barlow,

Admirable. Many thanks. I shall cut down Who's Who. Your activities were outrageous!

Yours very sincerely,

The Rt.Hon.
Sir Montague Barlow, Bt., P.C., K.B.E.,

My Dear Barlow,

Everybody is entitled to "Who's Who" if they want it, and you shall have it without 'flummery'.

Yours ever,

The Rt. Hon. Sir Montague Barlow, Bart., P.C., K.B.E.,

S.W.7.

My dear Wedgwood,

You have set me a difficult task with regard to my Party record.

At present I must honestly admit it reads to me rather as the account of a somewhat foolish busybody; and I am not quite clear how to get it into a better shape. Would you be content with short statements of fact, on the lines of "Who's Who"?
It seems to me this would be simpler.

Yours always,

Montague Barlow
